

DOMAINE DUREUIL-JANTHIAL

Maizières AOC Rully White

Parcel: Maizières. The name of this large parcel, to the east of the village close to the main road, comes from the old French word Maisiere, derived from the Latin Maceria, or “dry stone wall enclosure” which has inspired many place names in the region. Many of them refer to ruins, probably of Gallo-roman constructions, which are to be found along the Chagny-Cluny Roman road, whose route the current main road largely follows

Geographical situation: In the centre of the appellation, facing east. A parcel well exposed to the sun at Rully

Grape Variety: Chardonnay

Vineyard: Planted between 1997 and 2001 for a total surface of 2.7164 acres

Soil and subsoil: Clay

Character: A long maturing period gives this wine excellent cellaring ability. Superb minerality in spite of always harvesting at maximum ripeness
